The chart displays the projected population aged 65 and over in the EU from 2015 to 2070. The total population is projected to grow from approximately 100 million in 2015 to over 200 million in 2070. The population is divided into three age groups: 65-74 (cyan), 75-84 (yellow), and 85 and over (light blue). The proportion of the population aged 75 and over is projected to increase significantly over time, while the proportion aged 65-74 is projected to decrease.
